DISEC

Moderator's Note

I take this immensely honourable opportunity to welcome you all to the United Nations General Assembly Disarmament And International Security (DISEC) Committee of AUXIMUN, 2018. My aim is to put forward an advisory obligatory research format before the delegates. Hereby, I request you to adhere to the following agenda and sub-agendas that the committee looks forward to for intense debates and discussions.

MILITARY AID AND THE NON PROLIFERATION TREATY : Ever since the first nuclear device was tested, the international community has been struggling with restraining the destructive effect while harnessing its vast potential for peaceful uses. The NPT stands firm on its three pillars of:

- Non proliferation with regard to transfer of nuclear explosives or inducing non-nuclear weapon states in manufacture or acquisition of nuclear weapons

- Peaceful uses, whereof the rights of all parties to peaceful use of nuclear energy and international cooperation in this area is acknowledged.
- Disarmament, in the aspect of negotiations with regard to cessation of nuclear arms race and relating to nuclear disarmament and general and complete disarmament.

A deep insight into the successes and challenges faced by the NPT is sought after.

ROHINGYA CRISIS: A major challenge has been posed to the United Nations General Assembly in the form of the Rohingya crisis. Although, by a vote of 122 to 10 with 24 abstentions a resolution for ending the military attacks on Rohingya has been adopted but the situation still calls for effective action. Thus, a logically equipped outlook on tackling this situation of “ethnic cleansing” is the very need of the hour.

SYRIAN CRISIS: The Syrian Crisis has long been in existence and yet it still remains as one of the major causes of concern for the United Nations. The internal conflict in the form of the Civil War against the Assad government has been subjected to several assistances and oppositions from various member states. The present situation places the United Nations amidst dealing with regular aggressions, refugee influx and a state of absolute military instability. Hence I veritably look forward the delegates discussing this crisis in depth and detail.

ISRAELI-PALESTINIAN CONFLICT: The United Nations General Assembly still stands in the eye of the Israeli Palestinian Conflict which has been subject to various resolutions for years now. The several acts of aggression in the West Bank and Gaza strip along with the current “two state solution” that has been decided upon since it is clear in theory though it involves the two states to be united in it’s practice, seeks proper analysis and expression from the delegates.

POINTER : Thereby, I look forward to suggestions and active participation from you and I promise to encourage the various stances brought up by the delegates and the committee as a whole.
